DIAL NOW TERMS & CONDITIONS

By using this service you consent to the Terms and Conditions as follows:

Ask bill payer's permission before using the service. Calls are billed by your telephone line provider at their appropriate 0871, 0844, and relevant 09 rates. Prices quoted are based on BT landline rates and are billed per second. Prices and availability may vary from other networks and it is the user' responsibility to confirm those rates before use. BT will charge a call setup fee, please contact BT for more details. Calls are charged from time of connection to the service. The charge is incurred even if the destination number is engaged or the call is not answered. We advise to replace the handset after a short period, if your calls are engaged or unanswered. When you call from a mobile, remember to only press the call or send button after dialling the access number but not again after dialling the destination number. Prices of calls to mobile phones, premium rate numbers and pagers are not included unless otherwise stated. The provider reserves the right to terminate fraudulent calls and change the prices or the availability of certain destinations without any prior notice. The service is subject to availability.
